DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election of species I, claims 19-31, drawn to species having catalyst component R"(CpR_q)XR'MQ₂, in the reply filed on January 12, 2008 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)). The restriction is made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

4. Claims 19-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Little et al. (U.S. 5,747,405).

Little et al. discloses a series of constrained group metallocenes $\text{Me}_2\text{Si}(\text{N-}i\text{-Bu})(\omega\text{-propylenylCp})\text{ZrCl}_2$, $\text{Me}_2\text{Si}(\text{N-}\omega\text{-propylenyl})\text{CpZrCl}_2$, and $(\text{Me})(\omega\text{-butylenyl})\text{Si}(\text{N-}i\text{-Bu})\text{CpZrCl}_2$ (Figure 1; structures reproduced for convenience). Using Applicant's nomenclature, for these compounds, the terminal alkenyl group resides on Cp, X, and R", respectively.

Although compounds shown in the figure contain chloride ancillary ligands, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to use corresponding dihydride and dihydrocarbyl derivatives, i.e., dimethyl complexes, in view of the fact that the reference teaches that Y may be hydride or hydrocarbyl (col. 3, lines 10-15). The person of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to use such compounds since they are more soluble than their dihalide counterparts. Since these compounds yield substantially the same active catalytic species, one of ordinary skill in the art would have expected these catalysts to work equally well. These constrained group metallocenes are used as a catalyst component for polymerization of ethylene and propylene (col. 7, lines 1-18).

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 23-30 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims. The requirement in claim 23 that Cp contains ZR^*_3 in the distal position, relative to bridge R", is not disclosed or made obvious in Little et al.

Claim Objections

6. Claim 19 is objected to because of the following informalities: Claims are drawn to unsubstituted cyclopentadienyl or unsubstituted fluorenyl complexes, however, these ligands are necessarily substituted by virtue of bridging group R". Appropriate correction is required.
7. Claim 22 is objected to because of the following informalities: Please replace "denylenyl" with "decylenyl." Appropriate correction is required.

Specification

8. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it is too lengthy. Suggestion is made to pare abstract to reflect currently elected subject matter. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).
